BOND ELECTION TERMINOLOGY GUIDE

The following acronyms reflect organizations or terms used throughout this brochure:

LF = Leveraged Funding, meaning the City anticipates partnering with one or more non-City entities to share in the cost of completing the designated project. In such a scenario, the City's share could be reduced or redirected if the designated project's scope is modified or its participant does not produce the full amount of funding promised or expected.

BOND 2

AAMPO = Alamo Area Metropolitan Planning Organization

TxDOT = Texas Department of Transportation

PROPOSED 2017-2022

BOND

PROGRAM

City of San Antonio

Extensive public input contributed to the development of the proposed 2017-2022 Bond Program. More than 1,400 residents attended 25 public meetings convened by the five Community Bond Committees appointed by the Mayor and City Council. Committee members heard 350 public comments during the public testimony portion of their meetings.

After careful deliberation, the citizen Committees approved 173 projects and presented their recommendations on January 11, 2017 for City Council's consideration. City Council added seven projects and approved 180 projects to be included in the May 6, 2017 Bond election.

The $850 million proposed Bond Program is divided into six propositions:

STREETS, BRIDGES & SIDEWALKS IMPROVEMENTS	DRAINAGE & FLOOD CONTROL IMPROVEMENTS	PARKS, RECREATION & OPEN SPACE IMPROVEMENTS	LIBRARY & CULTURAL FACILITIES IMPROVEMENTS	PUBLIC SAFETY FACILITIES IMPROVEMENTS	NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENTS
$445.263M	$138.988M	$187.313M	$24.025M	$34.411M	$20.000M
64 Projects	19 Projects	79 Projects	13 Projects	5 Projects	Numerous

A City of San Antonio property tax rate increase is NOT planned to fund the proposed 2017-2022 Bond Program. The City's current debt service property tax rate is projected to be sufficient to fund the debt service payments for the program.

This Voters Information Guide includes the name, location, preliminary cost estimate and a general description of each of the projects that comprise the $850 million proposed Bond Program.

2017-2022 INFORMATION GUIDE

CITY OF SAN ANTONIO PROPOSED 2017–2022 BOND PROGRAM FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is a Bond Program?

A bond is a form of debt obligation that, when issued, provides local government with funds to finance large capital improvements. A Bond Program includes both the authority to issue bonds and a listing of the purposes for which the funds may be used. General Obligation Bond Programs, such as the City of San Antonio's 2017-2022 Bond Program, require voter approval.

How does the City propose to finance the Bond Program?

The City dedicates a portion of its property tax revenues to repay debt incurred for bond-funded improvements. However, the proposed Bond Program does not recommend a City property tax rate increase. The City plans to borrow the $850 million over five years, rather than all at once, allowing the Bond Program to be funded within the current City property tax rate based on current projections.

What is the City's credit rating and why is it important?

The City of San Antonio's financial strength and stability has been recognized for seven consecutive years with a 'AAA' bond rating, the highest possible financial rating, by the three major credit rating agencies: Moody's, Fitch and Standard & Poor's. The 'AAA' general obligation bond rating from these independent agencies is reflective of the City's track record of strong and prudent fiscal management and means that the City pays the lowest possible interest cost obtainable in the capital markets when bonds are sold. The City of San Antonio is the only city in the United States with a population of more than one million to have this distinction.

To put the value of the 'AAA' rating in perspective, for every $100 million of property tax supported debt issued, the City saves about $1.4 million in interest costs when comparing the City's 'AAA' rating to bonds issued with a 'AA' rating. Lower interest rates mean more money for capital construction.

What can General Obligation Bonds be used for?

General Obligation Bonds allow the City to pay for major capital investments having a public purpose, such as streets, drainage, public safety facilities, flood control as well as quality of life enhancements related to libraries, parks, community recreation, cultural facilities and elimination of slum and blight. Bonds are sold to investors and the proceeds from the sale of these bonds are used to pay for capital projects. Bond funds cannot be used for everyday operating costs for programs such as softball leagues, classes at senior centers, police officers or fire fighters. Such operating expenses are paid for by annual revenue that support the City's General Fund such as property tax revenue, sales tax revenue, CPS Energy revenue and fees for service.

How are funds repaid that are received through the issuance of General Obligation Bonds?

General Obligation Bonds are backed by the full faith and credit of the City of San Antonio, which means that the City is obligated to pay back the bonds plus interest by pledging its ad valorem taxing power. As such, the City uses a portion of its property tax revenues to repay the General Obligation Bonds in the form of annual principal and interest payments.

How large is the General Obligation Bond Program for 2017?

The City is proposing a $850 million 2017 Bond Program. The City's 2012–2017 Bond Program was $596 million and the City's 2007–2012 Bond Program was $550 million.

Several factors go into determining the size of a bond program. The City analyzes current and projected property valuations, aligns that with City Charter and Texas constitutional limits on public debt, and considers the importance of maintaining the City's 'AAA' bond ratings and funding citizen and staff recommended capital infrastructure projects throughout the community.

Does the proposed 2017 Bond Program anticipate an increase in the City property tax rate?

No. The 2017 Bond Program does not include a planned increase in the City's property tax rate. This means that future revenues at the existing tax rate are projected to be sufficient to repay the bonds.

How much property tax-supported debt does the City have?

The City's property tax supported debt is $1.6 billion, as of September 30, 2016. The City of San Antonio's Charter limits property tax-supported debt to no more than 10 percent of the total assessed value, which means that the City cannot have more than $10.5 billion in property tax-supported debt outstanding. At $1.6 billion currently, the City is well below this limit.

2017-2022 INFORMATION GUIDE

Are there any limitations on tax rates to fund bond programs?

State law caps the tax rate for debt service at $1.50 per $100 of valuation. The City's tax rate for debt service is a component of the City's overall tax rate and is $0.21 per $100, which is well below the State limitation on the debt service tax rate. The City does not project or plan for a tax rate increase to fund the 2017 Bond Program.

Why do you issue bonds to pay for City projects rather than pay for projects with cash?

There are many planned and recommended large-scale projects throughout the City of San Antonio such as street and sidewalk improvements, new parks and community centers. Using bond financing to fund large-scale projects within the constraints that have produced the City's "AAA" rating allows the annual City operating budget to be allocated toward annual and ongoing costs such as maintenance, personnel, operations and public service programs. By issuing bonds, we can invest in those projects more quickly and avoid deferred maintenance costs.

Why doesn't the City cut property taxes more instead of adding projects?

The City of San Antonio maintains more than 4,000 miles of streets and has identified more than $1.4 billion in recommended improvements to streets and close to $1 billion for sidewalks. If the City does not construct these projects, taxpayers will pay for increased maintenance costs and the improvements may not be completed. For example, it is more cost effective to reconstruct a major thoroughfare rather than making patchwork repairs year after year. The $850 million Bond Program allocates 70 percent of funds for major infrastructure projects of streets and drainage.

Has the City recently increased its property tax rate and how does it compare to other major cities in Texas?

No. The City has NOT increased its property tax rate in decades, including during the last major recession. In fact, Fiscal Year 2016 - 2017 will be the 24th consecutive year that the City of San Antonio has not increased the City's property tax rate. The City has lowered the City's property tax rate seven times during that same period. The City of San Antonio's total property tax rate is the second lowest of the major cities in Texas.

How are bond projects selected?

The projects in the 2017 Bond Program were vetted and approved by the community and City Council. City staff initially studied infrastructure needs throughout the community and developed a list of potential projects which were presented to five Citizen Bond Committees. Each committee consisted of two co-chairs appointed by the Mayor and 30 residents appointed by City Council (160 individuals total). The Bond Committees were organized as follows: 1) Streets, Bridges & Sidewalks; 2) Drainage & Flood Control; 3) Parks, Recreation & Open Spaces; 4) Facility Improvements; and 5) Neighborhood Improvements. The entire process was overseen and guided by Bond Tri-Chairs. For the 2017 Bond, Mayor Taylor appointed Eddie Aldrete, Carri Baker and Darryl Byrd as Tri-Chairs. The Citizen Bond Committees held 25 meetings and participated in five tours from October 2016 to December 2016 to discuss potential projects and developed a list of recommended projects. The Committees submitted their list of recommended projects to the Mayor and City Council for consideration and projects were approved in January 2017 totaling $850 million.

What if there are bond funds left over within the Bond proposition categories?

Some of the Community Bond Committees identified projects that were considered to be consistent with the overall Bond Program objectives but which did not make the final list of recommended projects. These identified projects could be given priority consideration by the City Council for implementation within the Bond Program if there are approved bond funds remaining within the categories. However, this only would be after approved projects have been completed and potential project cost overruns have been addressed.

How did the Citizen Bond Committees make decisions about projects?

The projects selected for the 2017-2022 Bond Program followed a set of guiding principles that reflect City Council and community priorities. Those guiding principles are:

- Aligning with SA Tomorrow, the City's comprehensive growth and development plan
- Coordination with other public agencies, such as TxDOT, AAMPO, Bexar County, SAWS, CPS Energy, VIA, SARA, Port SA and Brooks City Base
- Increased connectivity

INFORMATION GUIDE

- Leverage funds for jointly-funded projects with other community organizations such as the YMCA, park conservancies, schools and universities
- Completing or making significant progress on projects already underway such as Hemisfair and Seeling Channel Drainage
- Investment in major transportation corridors
- Improving and supporting Vision Zero (the program designed to eliminate deaths on our roadways)
- Complete streets (designed to support all roadway users)
- Environmental sustainability
- Operating & maintenance budget impact
- Rough proportionality for projects throughout San Antonio, not just in one area

How do I know bond projects are actually being completed from prior Bond Programs?

Transparency is of utmost importance to the City and the City has a 2012 Bond project status dashboard at www.sanantonio.gov/2012bond. The dashboard showcases the progress, budgets and timelines for the projects. 98 percent of the 2012 Bond projects are on schedule and all projects are within budget.

When is Election Day?

The election will be held on Saturday, May 6, 2017.

How can residents learn more about the City's proposed Bond Program?

Residents can view all related Bond Program related information and material on the City's web site at:

<http://www.sanantonio.gov/2017Bond.aspx>.
