

Westside Potential Landmarks 2012

What is the Westside Cultural Resource Survey?

- An effort on behalf of the City's Office of Historic Preservation and community partners to identify, document, and protect places of significance on San Antonio's Westside.
- Community partners include the Westside Historic Preservation Alliance, the Esperanza Peace and Justice Center, the Westside Development Corporation (WDC), the San Antonio Conservation Society, the National Trust for Historic Preservation Partners in the Field Program, and other members of the Westside community.
- The Westside Cultural Resource Survey was initiated in February 2011 with a Kick-Off Meeting.
- Over the last year, community partners have photographed and researched these properties to learn the unique history of each of these resources and to share why these places are important within San Antonio's Westside Community.
- Over 90 resources have been identified that are potentially eligible for local historic landmark designation.

Westside Potential Landmarks Meeting

August 13, 2012

- The purpose of the meeting is to solicit feedback from property owners and residents about which resources are most important to the Westside community.
- The resources have been determined significant based on their architecture, history, and cultural associations.
- Let us know which resources matter most to you!
- Based on community feedback at the Westside Potential Landmarks Meeting, we hope to be able to protect many of these resources through local historic landmark designation.

What is local historic landmark designation and what does it do?

- Local historic landmarks are properties that have been officially recognized by the City of San Antonio for their architectural, historical, or cultural significance.
- Landmark designation protects the unique history and culture of a community.
- Landmark designation increases neighborhood pride and awareness through preservation of important places and sites.
- Landmark designation is a zoning overlay that protects properties from demolition and from inappropriate alterations through a design review process for exterior modifications.

Let us know which resources matter to you!

- Following is the list of the over 90 properties that have been identified that are significant parts of the history and culture of the Westside.
- Join us at the meeting on August 13, 2012, and let us know which of these resources are most important to you!
- For further information, please contact Elizabeth Porterfield at the Office of Historic Preservation at 207-3327 or elizabeth.porterfield@sanantonio.gov.
