You Have the Right to be Safe!

No one deserves to be hit or threatened. If you are being hurt by someone you love, make plans and take precautions to keep yourself and your children safe. Here are some suggestions that have helped other people in situations like yours.

Safety During an Explosive Incident

- ◆ If there is an argument, try to be in a place that has an exit and not in a bathroom, kitchen or room that may contain weapons.
- ◆ Practice getting out of your home safely. Identify which doors, windows, elevator, or stairwell to use.
- ◆ Pack a bag, and have it ready at a friend's or relative's house.
- ◆ Identify one or more neighbors you can tell about the violence, and ask them to call the police if they hear a disturbance coming from your home.
- ◆ Develop an age-appropriate safety plan with your children
- ◆ Devise a code word to use with your children, family, friends and neighbors when you need the police.
- ◆ Decide and plan where you will go if you ever have to leave home.
- ◆ Use your instincts and judgment. In some dangerous situations, give the abuser what he wants to calm him down.

Remember, you don't deserve to be hit or threatened.

Safety with Technology

- ◆ Create a new email account.
- ◆ Use a safe computer, which might be located at: public library, a community center, an internet café
- ◆ Change passwords and PIN numbers.
- ◆ Use a donated or new cell phone to make plans. Your old cell phone bill will tell your abuser who you have been calling.
- ◆ Search your name on major internet search engines to see if the results have links to your contact information.
- ◆ Download a personal safety app to alert emergency contacts when you need help.

Safety when Planning to Leave

- ◆ Open a checking or savings account in your own name.
- ◆ Leave money, an extra set of keys, copies of important documents and extra clothes and medicines in a safe place or with someone you trust.
- ◆ Get your own post office box.
- ◆ Identify a safe place where you can go and someone who can lend you money.
- ◆ If you have pets, make arrangements for them to be cared for in a safe place.

Remember, leaving is the most dangerous time.

Safety with a Protective Order

- ◆ If you or your children have been threatened or assaulted, you can request a protective order from the Bexar County Family Justice Center.
- ◆ Always keep your protective order with you.

- ◆ Call the police if your partner violates the protective order.
- ◆ Inform family members, friends and neighbors that you have a protective order in effect.

Safety in Your Own Residence

- ◆ If you stay in your home, lock your windows and change the locks on your doors as soon as possible.
- ◆ Develop a safety plan with your children for times when you are not with them.
- ◆ Inform your children's school, day care, etc., about who has permission to pick up your children.
- ◆ Inform neighbors and the landlord that your partner no longer lives with you, and that they should call the police if they see him/her near your home.
- ◆ Never tell the abuser where you live. Never call the abuser from your home because the abuser may find out where you live.
- ◆ Request an unlisted/unpublished number from the telephone company and;
- ◆ Notify utility companies not to make your contact information public.

Safety at Work and in Public

- ◆ Inform someone at work of your situation. Include the security officers at work and provide them with a picture of your batterer.
- ◆ Have someone screen your telephone calls at work.
- ◆ Have someone escort you to and from your car, bus or train.
- ◆ Use a variety of routes to come and go from home. Inform someone at work of your situation. Include the security officers at work and provide them with a picture of your abuser.
