

Two-wheeling your way through San Antonio gives you the opportunity to see the sights up close and at your own pace. We've outlined five routes, ranging from a quick spin to those that will require more pedal power.

Bicyclists observe the same traffic regulations as motor vehicles, and we ask that you take all safety precautions, such as signaling turns, wearing a helmet, and braking for pedestrians. Be sure to take water with you, wear sunscreen and lock your bike when parking. Should you and your bike need a lift, hop on a VIA bus with a bike rack.

For more information about any of the sites, including maps and brochures, please visit the San Antonio Visitor Center at 317 Alamo Plaza.

Please note that many of these rides mix with urban vehicular traffic.

1 Alamo HemisFair Out & Back

You'll see some of San Antonio's best-known landmarks on this quick trip around the downtown area.

- Begin at the Alamo and travel west on Houston St., past the Buckhorn Saloon/Texas Rangers Museum, the San Antonio Children's Museum, and the Majestic and Empire Theatres.

- On the west side of Main Plaza is San Fernando Cathedral, the oldest Roman Catholic sanctuary in the U.S. The Bexar County Courthouse occupies the southern end of Main Plaza.
- Head north on Alamo, past The Torch of Friendship and Rivercenter Mall, and you're back to the Alamo.

Turn south on Main and ride into Main Plaza, where you'll find public restrooms and drinking fountains. The Plaza is a great central space for relaxing, people watching and having a bite to eat while sitting on a park bench.

2 Brackenridge Park Out & Back

Main Plaza, a historic community gathering center in front of San Fernando Cathedral, is a great place to start this ride.

- You'll push north to St. Mary's St., which will take you to your destination, the 344-acre Brackenridge Park.
- Along the way, you'll ride through business districts and residential neighborhoods, encountering a number of popular restaurants and eateries should you want to stop for a bite to eat.
- Brackenridge Park is on a site that once held a rock quarry, a Civil War-era tannery, and a waterworks. Land was first donated to the city for the park in 1899. Today, park attractions include Brackenridge Park Golf Course, the Brackenridge Eagle miniature train, San Antonio Zoo, Japanese Tea Gardens, Sunken Garden Theater, jogging trails, public art, playgrounds, pavilions and athletic fields.

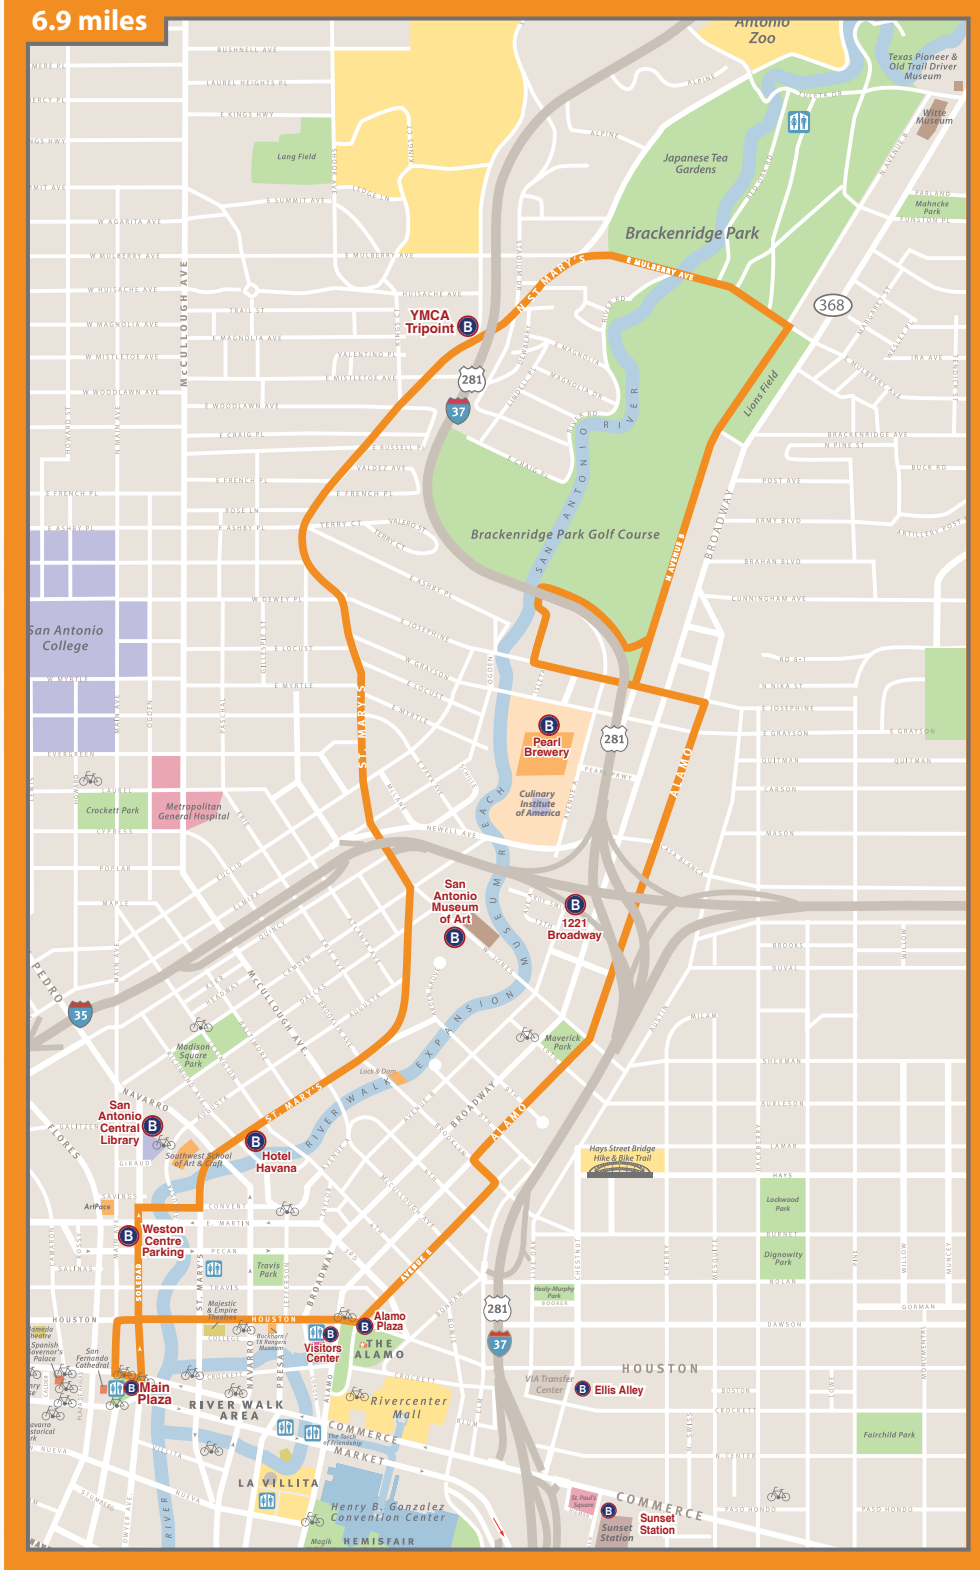

As you leave the park, you'll travel along Avenue B, which is a dedicated, family friendly bike path, and then you'll hit Josephine St. which will lead you to N. Alamo St. which will take you back toward downtown.

This Brackenridge Park Golf Course was designed in 1915 and is the oldest 18-hole public course in the state.

The Japanese Tea Gardens feature beautiful floral displays, a waterfall and a safe habitat for new Koi and aquatic plants.

The San Antonio Zoo is home to over 8,500 animals of 779 species and many interactive exhibits. The Zoo is open 365 days a year.

4 King William Out & Back

A leisurely roll through the King William Historic District will definitely make you feel like you're traveling back through time. The mansions were built for German business and civic leaders by the city's most prominent architects in the late 1800s, and feature a variety of architectural styles. On this route, cyclists are mixing with urban vehicular traffic, so it's not suggested for children or inexperienced cyclists.

- The Guenther House, now a museum, restaurant and gift shop, was built in 1860 as the residence for the family that founded Pioneer Flour Mills.
- The Steves Homestead Museum showcases the 1876 home built for Edward Steves, founder of the Steves Lumber Company, and it is open to the public.

- Villa Finale, also built in 1876, was renovated by San Antonio preservationist Walter Mathis, who donated it to the National Trust for Historic Preservation.
- Your journey will take you past several parks, including the Commander's House Park and King William Park. Don't miss a new pocket park at Crofton and Constance, which provides a perfect resting point on the edge of the San Antonio River.

Villa Finale, built in 1876, was renovated by San Antonio preservationist Walter Mathis.

Enjoy a leisurely roll through the artistic King William Historic District.

The Steves Homestead was built in 1876 for Edward Steves, founder of the Steves Lumber Company.
